

JUMPED THE TRACK.

A Bad Accident on the Pennsylvania Railroad—Conductor Killed and Twenty-five Passengers Injured.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 10.—One man was killed and twenty-seven persons were injured at Manor station, on the Pennsylvania railroad twenty-four miles east of here, last night, by a car on westbound mail train No. 13 jumping the track.

Killed: John Miller, freight conductor, Derry, Pa. The following injured passengers were left at Manor station:

H. Kunkle, Johnstown, Pa.
Thomas Donohue, Greensburg, Pa.
Mrs. Mary Metzger, Irwin, Pa.
Mrs. M. H. Jones, Irwin, Pa.
Mrs. S. A. Pace, Allegheny.
John M. Baker, Manor.
Man and woman who refused to give their names.
P. Necker, Wilkensburg, Pa.
Mrs. George Robinson, Roadstown, N. J.
Mrs. S. R. Kelly, Allegheny.
M. W. Webb, Pittsburgh.
G. Van Zandt, New York.
H. J. Latta, Altoona, Pa.
John Truby, Beaver Falls, Pa.
Mrs. Fanny Washington (colored), Allegheny.
Mrs. E. L. Ellis, Pittsburgh.
Rev. D. Shuman, Butler county.
Mrs. Martha Black, Wilkensburg, Pa.
C. E. Strong, Pittsburgh.
C. A. Montague, Willis Station, Pa.
J. B. Ruth, Altoona.
R. G. Gamble, Allegheny.
Mrs. M. D. Messner, Canton, Ill.
George E. Loomis, conductor of mail train.
Robert Johnston, Pittsburgh.
D. R. Stewart, Pittsburgh.

What caused the accident cannot as yet be ascertained. For some unknown reason, the next to the rear coach left the track while the train was running at a good speed. The car left the track and turned in an opposite way from that in which the train was going. This coach and the one following were wrecked, and it was the passengers in these two coaches that were injured. Miller, who was killed, was a conductor of a freight train standing on another track. He was killed by one of the wrecked passenger coaches crushing him as he stood alongside his train.

PADDED PAY ROLLS.

City Officials of Buffalo, N. Y., Arrested for Alleged Fraudulent Practices.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 10.—Last week charges were made to Mayor Jewett against the department of public works and on Monday the mayor sent a message to the board of aldermen asking for authority to conduct a thorough investigation of the department. The request was granted and as a first result warrants were issued Tuesday night for the arrest of Howard D. Herr, cashier of the department; John M. Danahy, deputy superintendent of streets; and Joseph Burke, a saloon-keeper and formerly boss of a gang of street cleaners. All three were arrested about midnight.

The charge against Herr and Danahy is grand larceny, but the former, with the assistance of his two confederates, is said to have padded the pay rolls with dummy names. Other arrests are expected.

Confessions by employees in the gangs which work on the streets are said to reveal startling things and to implicate men who would be supposed to be above committing theft. Herr and Danahy were arraigned yesterday and admitted to bail in $5,000 each. They were later called before the board of public works and suspended.

The amount of their alleged pecuniations is not known, but it is alleged that it runs up into thousands of dollars. The warrants for their arrest were sworn out by the mayor's private secretary on information laid before the mayor by George E. Matthews, proprietor of the Express. It is said that other arrests will follow.

LOST IN LAKE HURON.

Reported that the Steamer Africa Foundered—Eleven People on Board—Barge Severed Wrecked.

STOKES BAY, Ont., Oct. 10.—On Monday evening the steamer Africa, of Owen Sound, coal laden, having in tow the barge Severn, of Toronto, also coal laden, was proceeding up Lake Huron, bound for Owen Sound, when, owing to heavy weather, she was compelled to let the Severn go. The Severn being stripped of canvas, had to run before the gale until Loyal Island was reached, where she went on the beach and now lies a total wreck. The crew, who were saved by some fishermen after being in the rigging twenty hours, say that soon after being cast off by the Africa the latter vessel, which had been rolling heavily, suddenly disappeared and they think she went down with all on board.

The names of the officers and crew of the Africa are: Capt. H. P. Larson, Toronto; William Anderson, mate, Owen Sound; Mat Hase, chief engineer, Toronto; Ed Forest, second engineer, Toronto; William Mann, wheelman, Toronto; John King, Oakville, Ont.; Miss Lee, cook, Toronto; two firemen and two deck hands, names unknown. The Africa's lifeboat and life preservers have been picked up on Loyal Island.

They Left the Houses There.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Oct. 10.—The little hamlet of Greenfield Center, about six miles from here, suffered Tuesday night from the work of a gang of robbers. The first place visited was Spaulding & Scott's general store, where the safe was blown open and money and valuable papers were taken. A quantity of merchandise was also stolen. The offices of the town clerk and the post office were next visited and the safes in each place were rifled. In the post office stamps, money and a number of valuable letters were secured. Several residences and a blacksmith shop were also robbed.

Lost His Life in a Burning Theater.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 10.—Fire which started from an unknown cause on the stage of the old Comique theater yesterday resulted in the complete destruction of the building, $3,000 damage to an adjacent building occupied by Mrs. John Hughes as a saloon, and the death of Alvin E. Canaday, brother-in-law of Chief Hale and a member of fire company No. 1. The loss on the theater is $12,000, on scenery $3,500. Besides these losses the Billy Rice minstrel company lost all of its scenery, wardrobe and other effects, valued at $1,500 or $2,000.

THE DURRANT TRIAL.

Remarkable Nerve Displayed by the Defendant in San Francisco's Celebrated Murder Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—Theodore Durrant is a remarkable witness. All of Thursday before an audience that packed the court room, he stood a fire of questions from District Attorney Barnes, which it seemed at times must break him down, with imperturbable coolness. His quickness of wit and adroitness were shown a dozen times. He went over the ground of his direct testimony and entered into the details of his movements in the church on the day of the murder without deviating any in plausibility. The cross-examination began with the time that Durrant first met Blanche Lamont. This was last September a year ago. He said he took her to ride on a street car twice and thrice he accompanied her to other places. These were the only times he had ever been out with her. He emphatically reiterated his statement that after she left the car at her school he never saw her again, dead or alive.

The district attorney went back to the statement of Janitor Sademan, of Emmanuel church, that he had seen Durrant at the ferry on the afternoon of the Minnie Williams murder and that Durrant had then said he was waiting to see if Miss Lamont would not pass. He told Sademan he had heard she was going to cross the bay that afternoon.

"Did you make such a statement to Sademan?" asked Barnes.

"I did," Durrant replied.

"Who gave you that clue?"

"I got it from a gentleman up town."

"Who was he?"

"I don't know. I never saw him before or since. I was standing on Post street when this man tapped me on the shoulder and asked me if I was Theodore Durrant. I told him that was my name. He then asked me if I was not interested in the disappearance of Blanche Lamont and on my answering in the affirmative, he told me he would advise me to watch the ferry that afternoon, as she would cross the bay. He then walked off down the street and I went to lunch and afterwards walked to the ferry and watched for her all the afternoon."

"Did you not investigate to learn who this man was and where he got his information?" he was asked.

"I did not," he replied.

"You knew Blanche Lamont was being searched for and that your name was associated with her disappearance, and yet you permitted this stranger to walk away without learning anything about him?"

"Well," said Durrant, "the truth is, that I was so overjoyed at getting a clue that I did not think of questioning him."

"Is it not a fact that you were not at the ferry at that time because of any clue connected with Blanche Lamont, but to meet Minnie Williams, whom you expected to come across the bay?"

"It is not a fact," said Durrant, unmoved by the rapidity of the questioning or the reference to the girl thought to be the second of his victims.

CHINESE JUSTICE.

Terrible Torture Inflicted Upon Men Suspected of Participation in Outrages Upon Missionaries.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a letter from its correspondent in Ku Cheng detailing the difficulties attending communication with Foo Chow and describing the trial of a prisoner implicated in the outrages upon missionaries. When the court is ready, the writer says, the accused man is brought in handcuffed. He is filthy in appearance and has the wild and ghastly look of a starved man, which he really is. The prisoner opens the proceedings by swearing that he was nowhere near the scene of the massacre and then the torture begins. The man is first compelled to kneel with his bare knees upon a coil of chain. His head is dragged back and his pigtail is fastened to a rack high above his head. A pole is then thrust across his legs and two soldiers stand on each end of it, crushing the poor wretch's knees into the coil of chain.

The British consul could not stand this method of extracting testimony and insisted that it be stopped. This was done as far as the proceedings in the court room were concerned, but for an hour afterwards the shrieks of tormented prisoners could be heard coming from an adjacent room, where the torture was continued.

When the magistrates wanted to hear the confession of a tortured man the prisoner was brought back into the court room. If he held back his confession he was threatened with resumption of his torture. This was usually sufficient to cause the prisoner to tell all he knew rather than return to the torture chamber.

Besides the torture described the prisoners were beaten with bamboo sticks until their yells were most horrible to hear. One prisoner appeared in the court room unable to walk from the beating he had received, and another was unable to kneel because his knees had been broken by the chain links and his thighs had been lacerated by the strokes of the bamboo rods. In the midst of such misery cakes, fruits, tea and wine were served and partaken of by the native officials.

The correspondent declares that the powers ought to demand justice without torture, reaching the mandarin as promptly as the man who works in the field. The whole business lies at the door of corrupt officials.

MAJ. ARMES LIBERATED.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Judge Bradley yesterday ordered the discharge of Maj. Armes from custody of the military authorities, by whom he was held under orders of Gen. Schofield as acting secretary of war. The court said that Maj. Armes' arrest and confinement was in violation, not only of the spirit but the letter of army regulations, and that in whatever capacity Gen. Schofield may have acted, be it either as lieutenant general of the army or as secretary of war, his action was unwarranted, illegal, unjust and tyrannical.

WON THE TEMPLE CUP.

The Cleveland Baseball Club Captures the coveted Trophy by Defeating the Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 9.—The Temple cup goes to Cleveland, and, as last year, the champions must be content with second place in the contest for the prize. Tebeau and his Spider aggregation took Tuesday's game with something to spare, neither side scoring until the seventh inning, but despite the goose eggs and cold weather, there was lots of enthusiasm because of numerous brilliant plays. From the opening of the seventh inning until the teams had left the grounds, there was excitement to spare. Up to the end of the sixth inning there had been but three hits made off Hoffer. Young was the first man up in the seventh. He cracked out a double; Barrett singled and McKean sacrificed. Young was, however, held on third. Kelly's error in dropping a ball from Childs' bat allowed Young to score. Singles by McAleer and Tebeau and two dumb exhibitions by Gleason and Carey gave the Cleveland two more runs. Three singles and an error netted them two in the succeeding inning.

Baltimore earned one run in the seventh inning. In this inning an incipient riot followed Tebeau's attempt to spike Hoffer as he ran past first. Returning to the base, Hoffer vigorously pushed Tebeau, felling him to the ground. Excitement ran high as the players rushed in from the field, while yells and imprecations filled the air.

The champions added another tally to their score in the ninth and at one time had a chance of winning the game. With two out, McGraw and Keeler drew bases on balls and Jennings was hit by the pitcher. The crowd meantime was wildly encouraging the home players and trying to rattle the others. With the bases full, Kelly was besought in frantic terms to bring them in. The best he could do was to single, scoring McGraw.

The crowd left the grounds in bad humor, hundreds of them lining up about the players' club house awaiting the appearance of the Cleveland team. The police were, however, prepared for any outbreak that might occur and quickly drove the mob back until a passage way had been made for the Forest City men. As they filed into their stage a platoon of mounted police surrounded it and opened an avenue for the bus to drive through. Several policemen rode in the vehicle, while others were on top. The formidable array of blue coats deterred the crowd from making any hostile demonstration and the team reached its hotel without molestation. The chilly weather had a bad effect on the attendance, which was a little less than 5,000. Score:

Baltimore..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1—2 9
Cleveland..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 2 0—5 11 3
Batteries—Hoffer and Clarke; Young and Zimmer. Umpires—Keefe and Hurst.

GEN. MAHONE DIES.

Close of a Long and Eventful Career of a Famous Virginian.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Gen. William Mahone died at Chamberlin's hotel at 1 o'clock yesterday, from the effects of a paralytic stroke sustained September 30. He had been unconscious for more than forty-eight hours previous to death and passed away seemingly without pain. Mrs. Mahone, his sons and daughter and Capt. Rogers, secretary of the Virginia state republican committee and former secretary to Gen. Mahone, were at the bedside when the end came.

Gen. Mahone was born in Southampton county, Virginia, December 1, 1829. He graduated at the Virginia Military Institute in 1847 and until the beginning of the civil war was engaged in engineering and was constructor of the Norfolk & Petersburg railway. He joined the Confederate army in 1861, took part in the capture of the Norfolk navy yard in April of that year, raised and commanded the Sixth Virginia regiment, was engaged in most of the battles of the Peninsular campaign, those on the Rappahannock and around Petersburg, where he won the soubriquet of the "Hero of the Crater." Throughout his career in the army he was noted as a fighting commander. He was commissioned brigadier general in March, 1864, and major general in August of the same year. He subsequently led a division in Ambrose P. Hill's corps and at Lee's surrender was at Bermuda Hundred. At the close of the war he became president of the Norfolk & Tennessee railroad. He also engaged in politics and was the leader of the movement that elected Gilbert C. Walker governor of Virginia. After failing to secure the nomination for that office in 1878, he organized and became the leader of the readjuster party. He was elected to the United States senate in 1881 and served until 1887. Though elected as a readjuster, he voted with the republicans and by so doing gave them the control of the senate.

THEY DIED TOGETHER.

Recovery of the Bodies of Four Men Killed in the Dorrance Mine.

WILKESBARRE, Oct. 9.—Tuesday morning the rescuers discovered the bodies of the men who perished by the explosion in the Dorrance mine Monday night. The bodies were horribly burned. The men had evidently been killed by the force of the explosion. The victims are: William L. Jones, aged 28, chief of the engineer corps, of Wilkesbarre. William Cahill, aged 19, engineer, of Pittston. Llewellyn Owens, aged 23, engineer, of Pittston. Daniel Davis, aged 35, of Wilkesbarre.

The body of Davis was the first to be discovered. He was lying upon his face and his features were almost unrecognizable. The body of Jones was found only a few feet away, also horribly burned. Engineer Cahill was the worst mangled of the party. His skull was crushed in, evidently by flying timber. Owens and Jones were found in close proximity to each other. Jones clasped the hand of Owens. The bodies were immediately brought to the surface and taken to their late homes.

A Political Landslide.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 9.—The republicans of Indianapolis suffered the heaviest defeat in the history of the city in the municipal election yesterday. Thomas Taggart, democrat, is elected mayor by about 4,000 plurality and the rest of the democratic ticket by about 3,200. Two years ago the republicans carried the city by 3,100 and last year the city went republican by 2,479 on the state ticket. The main causes are that the present administration has aroused the enmity of the voters by its rigid enforcement of the liquor laws.

JUST IN TIME.

The Arrival of an American Gunboat Prevented a Massacre of Missionaries.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Rev. Thomas L. Boyle returned to his home in Paterson a few days ago after an absence of six months in China, whither he went as a missionary. At the very beginning his labors were interrupted by sickness, followed by other dangers. He left China in almost a dying condition, but is recovering his health. In relating the experience of the Christians in China he said: We were in Wuhu when orders came for the massacre. According to these orders the massacres were to have begun in Wuhu and we were to have been the first victims. The orders came on a Tuesday to the effect that all the foreigners were to be put to death and the natives at once proceeded to erect a theater.

Whenever any such work is to be done a theater is first built and a performance given. The performance is of such a nature as to work the auditors up to the highest pitch of excitement, when they are ready to commit all kinds of crimes. Fortunately for us an American gunboat happened to come up the river. There were altogether twenty-seven missionaries in Wuhu, there being nineteen in the house where I was located. We each received from the British consul a rifle and 180 rounds of ammunition. The women of the party were armed with revolvers. The presence of the gunboat, however, prevented. When I left the governor of the place said that he could not prevent the massacre. Rev. Boyle said he believed the orders for the massacre of the Christians came from Peking.

BISHOPS CHECKED.

Episcopal House of Deputies Refuses to Surrender a Valued Privilege.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 8.—The house of deputies of the Episcopal convention yesterday placed itself on record as being unwilling to surrender one of its most valuable prerogatives and practically the only one that enables it to hold the whip hand in preventing the house of bishops from making of itself, if it were so disposed, a literal oligarchy.

But for the fact that it is now recognized that the present debate is but an interchange of opinions between representatives of the various dioceses and that the old constitution is likely to remain the foundation of the church, the refusal of the convention to reenact the clause putting into effect within three days all legislation concerning which the bishops had made no sign might be fraught with grave consequences to the church. This clause, which was omitted from the new revision, enables the house of bishops to indefinitely kill by failure to act, all matters with which it may not be in accord. The result would be to make the lower, or representative house, little more than a spoke in the wheel of the church.

Decided in Favor of the Government.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Justice Hagner, in the supreme court of the District of Columbia, rendered his opinion yesterday in the celebrated Potomac Flats case in favor of the government. Some years ago the United States began extensive works in reclaiming the marshes and flats in the Potomac river fronting the city, and have made 750 acres of these marshes into solid ground, to the great improvement of the health of the city. The owners of the land along the river front claimed ownership of the land to the new channel and entered suits for ejectment.
